The Art of Free Business Promotion—Nigerian Style!

Imagine this scenario: You've just started your small business. You're selling those sweet-smelling handmade soap, or maybe it's that fantastic food delivery service in Kano that everyone's raving about. You've poured your heart, sweat, and money into it. But one wahala remains—nobody knows about you! You've shouted in your church WhatsApp group, disturbed your family group chat, and posted on your status until people have started to mute you. My brother, my sister, the hustle is real!

Now, before you start thinking of joining a Ponzi scheme or selling your destiny to pay for Instagram ads, there's a solution: 7hubent Tech—your go-to platform for free advertising in Nigeria. Yes, you heard right—free!

Why Is Advertising Important for Your Business?

Before we dive into the juicy details, let's talk sense. You can't grow your business if people don't know about it. Full stop. End of discussion. I don't care if you are selling suya on a street corner or running a fancy digital marketing agency; you need eyes on your product. Advertising is how you shout to the world, "Hey, I've got something amazing here, come and buy!"

But here in Nigeria, small businesses face plenty of hurdles. Marketing budgets are tight—or non-existent. That's where the beauty of free advertising comes in, and let me tell you, 7hubent Tech has made it as simple as making eba.

The Hidden Gem: Free Advertising with 7hubent Tech

Let me tell you something that many people don't know: WhatsApp is the new village square. Forget Facebook, Twitter, and all those flashy platforms. Na for WhatsApp, people dey talk! And guess what? 7hubent Tech is leveraging that fact to help small businesses promote themselves, free of charge. Yes, my people, you heard right.

With 7hubent Tech, you don't need to spend your last kobo or start harassing your relatives to forward your broadcast messages. They have created a free advertising WhatsApp group platform where

You see, this thing is not magic—it's common sense! You advertise your business, people in the group see it, some are interested, and before you know it, clients are calling. That's how it works. Simple and stress-free, just like boiling water.

Why WhatsApp Advertising Works Better Than You Think

Let me tell you a quick story. You see, back in the day when I was just starting my online food business in Kano, I used to post my offers on Instagram and Facebook. Likes dey plenty, but nobody was buying. One day, a friend of mine told me, "Why don't you try promoting your business on WhatsApp groups? That's where people really engage."

I joined some local WhatsApp groups, and guess what? People started ordering! Because, unlike other platforms, WhatsApp is personal. It's like entering someone's house to pitch your business. People are more likely to trust and engage with you.

That's what 7hubent Tech understands so well. They've created WhatsApp groups tailored for business advertising in Nigeria, so you're targeting people who are actually interested in what you're selling. No need for all that online competition with people dancing for likes.
